SILENT AUCTION 2025

Our Story

We wanted an oasis in the city, to slow down and savor the nostalgia and taste of a secret 1920s doughnut recipe in a gorgeous vintage environment.

In early 2002, we set out to create that space. What started as a daydream between brothers led to a single storefront on Capitol Hill. Thanks to the incredible support of the communities we've had the pleasure of serving, Top Pot has grown throughout the Puget Sound.

We remain committed to the simple ideals that brought us this far—quality, inclusiveness, and integrity in every single thing we do.

SILENT AUCTION 2025

Redmond Art Works was founded on the idea of creating a space for our community to gather and make art!

We specialize in providing innovative art education through weekly classes, camps, and workshops for the Eastside community young and old. Students exposed to art on a regular basis are four times more likely to lead a fulfilling and well balanced life. Redmond Art Works gives students the space to find their natural creativity, develop critical problem solving skills, and build art skills from beginning to advanced.

We have created a stress free, get messy, and create atmosphere where the question 'What would happen if we tried this?' is greeted with an enthusiastic, 'Let's try it!'

Our studio team is comprised of artists and educators that have a passion for helping students get creative, have fun, and connect with their peers.

We hope to see you in the studio soon

Guided Play + Safe Environment = The Science of SwimPlay®

Every parent wants the best for their kids. It's why development books, educational DVDs and parenting courses are so popular. But it's all so overwhelming. So what works the best? Well, science says the foundation for a child's cognitive growth is rooted in two key factors: a safe environment and learning through guided play at any age. Yes, play. This is how kids develop the skills that ultimately give them the courage to dive into new experiences.

The fact is your child's potential is in there. Sometimes you just need to add water. That's where Goldfish Swim School comes in – our swimming lessons for kids are based on the philosophy that children learn through play.

We focus on functional strength, mobility, balance, core, posture, and flexibility — the stuff that helps you move and feel better in real life. Our workouts follow structured, 4-week progressive cycles (not random workouts), so you're always building momentum. Week after week, you'll get stronger, improve your form, and level up your fitness with purpose.

Everyone gets their own setup — squat rack, barbell, dumbbells, bands, TRX, and more — so you're never waiting for equipment or lost in the crowd. Whether you're just starting or lifting for years, our coaches tailor every workout to your level. It's personal training, just with a small crew beside you to keep it fun and motivating.
